New Health Training Package Released

The new Health Industry Training Package, has been launched, in another step towards providing the health industry with skilled workers.

The new package means a consistent framework for community services and health sector workers nationally, and recognition of their qualifications in each state and territory.

And for the first time, the Diploma of Practice Management is now available as an endorsed national training package pathway.

Each state and territory is currently considering which course programs will be declared as traineeship programs for relevant course levels.
